READY TO ACCEPT A SETTLEMENT

Constitutionalists Will Assent to Proposals of United States.

THEY HOPE FOR PEACE

Common Ground Program of Understanding Proceeding Slowly—Only Preliminary Discussion So Far.

Washington, May 26.—The constitutionalists, through their leaders, Carranza and Villa, are prepared to accept, in principle, a settlement of Mexican affairs along the lines desired by the United States.

They hope that the Niagara conference will be productive of good results, and they urge an early conclusion.

This is the essence of important code dispatches received by the State Department today from General Carranza and General Villa They were sent from El Paso, Texas., by George Carrothers, special representative of the State Department. They express the exact position of the constitutionalist toward the Niagara Falls peace conference.

These dispatches were placed in the hands of Secretary of State Bryan this morning, and they are to receive careful consideration from the Cabinet today. It is understood that they will be carefully canvassed by the President and his official advisers.

While details are withheld, and no official announcement has been made, it is known that both Carranza and Villa expressed their hope that the Niagara Falls conference will be productive of happy results.

They are said to have agreed to consider carefully all the recommendations of the mediators and to accept, for themselves and their followers, at least the principles of any settlement, agreement which eliminates Huerta and re-establishes constitutional government.

Villa has sent word, it is understood, that he, with his troops, expects to be at the gates of Mexico City within a fortnight, and that if the mediators are to accomplish anything they must act quickly.

Niagara Falls, Ontario, May 26.—The "common ground of understanding" in the Mexican mediation program is slowly being reached. The Mexican delegates today were expected formally to make known their position on what is conceded to be the crux of the entire plan for rehabilitation of Mexico—the breaking up of the vast estates held by the powerful cientificos and some plan of distribution of this land so that the peon may share.

The constitutionalists based their revolt on this agrarian reform It was not expected that a complete plan for division of land could be reached without their participation, officially or unofficially, in the meditation proceedings. It was learned today, however, that the Mexican federal delegates are taking a broad view of the entire situation, and that they believe a settlement may be possible without the constitutionalists.

Scarcely more than preliminary discussions have as yet taken place either on the question of Huerta's continuance in power or on land reform. But an air of increasing optimism was apparent among all parties to the conference today.

The mediators were expected to meet with the American delegates today.

Workman Killed in Fall.

Washington, aMy 26.—Knocked from a narrow steel girder on the seventh floor of the skelton like framework for the new hotel under construction at North Capitol and E streets, J. M. Ewell, an ironworker, thirty-five year sold, fell to the basement and was instantyl killed this morning.

SCORNED; ASKS $150,000.

Girl Wooed With Tea And $100 Bills Sues Arthur I. Hoe for Breach of Promises.

New York, May 26.—How an acquaintance that began over a cup of tea and a $500 present at the Hotel Astor led to a $150,000 breach of promise suit was told before Supreme Court Justice Gavagan yesterday when Miss Mae A. Sullivan's allegations against Arthur I. Hoe, son of the late millinaire builder of printing presses, were heard.

Miss Sullivan said that Mr. Hoe spoke to her on the street one day three years ago and asked if he had not met her in Atlantic City. He hadn't, but she aparently was willing to give him an opportunity, for she agreed to be at the Hotel Astor the next day.

The friendship was formed over a cup of tea at the Astor next day, according to Miss Sullivan. She said he told her, between sips of tea, she was a very pretty girl and passed five $100 bills across the table.

Then, according to the witness, Hoe told her that his father had left him $8,000,000 and that he wanted to marry her.

"He told me," the witness said, "that it would not be illegitimate for him to support me although not married to me. He went out and bought me $4,000 worth of furniture, which was placed in an apartment on Seventh avenue."

"Why did he ask you to wait to marry him?" asked Mr. Towns.

"He said he was compelled to go to England to settle up his father's estate," the witness replied. "While he was gone, however, he said he would give me all the money I needed."

"The whole story was like a tale from the "Arabian Nights," said Mirabeau L. Towns, attorney for the blushing ex-convent girl, as he depicted the lavish expenditure of the millionaire and told how he gave the girl, $1,000 a week to spend.

Last year, Mr. Towns said, the girl learned Mr. Hoe was trying to get evidence to prove her insane. She was engaged to a Mr. High, but when he found out her story he broke the engagement.

William H. Hamilton, appearing for Hoe, said his client was the victim of his own sympathy, and trying to help a girl in New York was one of the most dangerous things a man could do.

Mr. Hamilton said his client had submitted to demands for money on all sides until he could not do it any longer and then a suit was brought. Hoe denied that he had ever promised to marry the girl and said she knew he was married.

PRESBYTERIANS VS. ROMANISTS

Ministers Attack Alleged Political Activity of Catholic Church.

SPEAKERS ARE BITTER

Makes Charges That the Associated Press is Controlled by "Fine Hand of Man on Tiber."

Kansas City, Mo., May 26.—The consideration of overtures from the Synod of Virginia occupied a large part of the sessions of the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church yesterday.

Answerng the overtures from that synod, which asked the assembly to adopt certain portions of its action on Romanism,and to arrange for a wider distribution of this report, the assembly committee on bills and overture made the following reply:

"That this assembly reaffirm the action of the General Assembly of 1912 on the subject of Romanism, embraced in the following recommendation: That, in meeting the menace of Romanism this assembly would recommend no other means than the dissemination of knowledge and the faithful preaching of the Gospel of Christ."

During the afternoon session the following paper on Romanism was presented by Rev. J. Addison Smith of Tennessee, and was referred to a special committee, action on the same to be taken later.

'Whereas, as the genius of Romanism is opposed to the genius of Protestanism, and,

Whereas (Romanism is a giant force making against civil and religious liberty, as history abundantly proves and,

"Whereas, the bold encroachments of Romanism in our day are a menace to the majestic interests of our republic and,

"Whereas, Rome claims to control the civic as well as the religious conscience of her members, holdng the civic subordinate to the advancement of the church, and,

"Whereas, in view of the above facts, a foreign potentate on Tiber throne controls the votes of Roman Catholics in our republic, thus defeating the prival ends of our fathers in founding this great nation, therefore,

"Be it resolved, That we request the Federal Council of Churches to weigh these facts, and if, in their judgment feasible, establish a bureau of information where all the constituen churches can secure all needed data in blocking the advance of the Roman Church in this land of the Pilgrim Fathers."

"The General Assembly views with serious concern the growth and pernicious activity of that powerful political-religious organization known as the Church of Rome, which is, and always has been, a menace or a blight to civil and religious liberty of every kind wherever it has obtained a foothold; the assembly also views with serious concern the dangerous apathy all classes of Protestants in this country touching this menace."

It was made plain during the debate that the objection of the Presbyterians to Catholicism is not against any spiritual doctrine connected with it, but against what the speakers termed the 'political activity of the Catholic Church."

Those who spoke on the subject before the resolution was adopted included the Rev. J. S. Lyons, Louisville, Ky., and Dr. J. Addison Smith of Murfreesboro, Tenn. Dr. Smith charged that an edict from the Pope was in the possession of Major Archie W. Butt, who died on the Titanic, commanding all Catholics to vote for a candidate other than Woodrow Wilson in the presidential election.

Dr. Smith said he recently served on a committee which appealed to the Associated Press for wider publication on general Christian news, and that the efforts of the committee were unavailing. Mr. Smith declared that "even the Associated Press is controlled by a fine hand of the man on the Tiber."

MEN IN GRAY SEEK HARMONY.

Will Ask Wilson to Take up Again G. A. R. Convention.

Washington, May 26. — Believing that they have been "snubbed" by President Wilson, some members of the Grand Army of the Republic will not attend the ceremonies at Arlington cemetery in connection with the unveiling of the Confederate monument June 4.

It was announced at the White House several days ago that the President had accepted an invitation to speak on this occasion. Shortly before he had declined an invitation to speak at the memorial day exercises of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Individual agitators whispered around that the President had purposely declined the Grand Army of the Republic invitation and accepted the Confederate invitation as a direct slap at the Union men.

So insistent were these rumors that a statement was issued at the White House explaining the situation. The ceremonies at the unveiling of the Confederate monument were to have been participated in by both the Blue and the Gray. Men from both ranks were selected to speak and it was explained to the President when the invitation was extended to him last January that every effort would be put forth to make this a reunion of veterans of the North and South.

The President was greatly surprised when he heard of the rumors.

Dr. J. K. P. Gleeson, Commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic in the District, informed a committee of Confederate veterans who called on him yesterday for the purpose of explaining the situation that he would not "call off the dogs."

As a consequence, it is understood that the Confederate veterans will ask the President to reconsider his action in declining the Grand Army of the Republic invitation so that there will be no dissatisfaction.

BLOW FROM BAT KILLS.

Injury Received at Ball Game Fatal After Ten Days.

Philadelphia, May 26.—After apparently recovering from the effects of a blow on the head, which he received May 16, John Hardy, 15 years old, of No. 2643 East Dauphin street, died under peculiar circumstances, yesterday, in St. Mary's Hospital. Physicians who examined Hardy believe that his death was caused by an infection of the brain, which resulted from the blow, as his skull was not fractured. An autopsy will be performed today.

Hardy, who was watching a ball game at Berks street and Frankford avenue, on May 16, got his head in the way as the batter swung at a pitched ball. He was knocked unconscious, but after being revived was taken to his home. For several days he seemed to be recovering, and was to have been discharged from that institution Thursday. Yesterday he sufferd a relapse and his death followed.

Will Examine Morgan's Books.

Washington, May 26.—Every book of J. P. Morgan & Co., and the personal records of the late J. Pierpont Morgan, touching in any way on the New Haven inquiry, are to be thoroughly examined by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Officials of the commission announced today that examiners will be sent to New York imediately. In doing this the Interstate Commerce Commission accepted the offer of J. P. Morgan, who declared that the records of the Morgan firm and the late financier will disprove the testimony of former President Mellen, of the New Haven, that the late Mr. Morgan kept secret important transactions.

Killed by Nineteen-Story Fall.

New York, May 26.—Adolph Lilienthal, a window cleaner, was killed yesterday by a fall from the nineteenth story of No. 28 East Thirtieth street. Two other cleaners were at work on the windows of the nineteenth floor when Lilienthal lost his balance.

Miss Harriett Johnson, an old and well-known resident, died at the Alexandria Hospital last night. The deceased was 77 years old.

ONLY FOUR DAYS MORE REMAIN

Work of Raising Money For New Hospital Will End This Week.

APPEAL TO COUNCIL.

Five Thousand Dollars Expected From City's Representatives at Meeting Tonight—Additions Today.

Only four days remain for the hospital campaign and all the good people who have been holding back their subscriptions, waiting for others to do their part, should recollect that it is almost as bad to hold back as it is to be too previous. Every large subscription that can be added to the list at once will materially aid in securing others and each small subscription will make those who are unable to give big sums feel like joining the large crowd who have out of their limited means contributed toward the hospital, which in the aggregate has amounted to many thousand dollars.

The City Council tonight will be called upon to act on the equest of the Hospital Executive Committee to appropriate five thousand dollars, even if the sum be paid out of one or more annual levies. The attention of the members of Council is directed to the fact that even if the entire amount was paid out of one year's levy it would simply be a tax of less than thirty cents for each citizen and if divided into two or three years the annual amount per capita would be only ten or fifteen cents.

When it is recollected that out of the 620 patients cared for in the hospital last year that nearly one-third of the number were treated without cost to themselves or the city (except for the small contribution made by the city to the hospital) and that the average cost of each patient per day was only $1.38, it will be seen by accurate calculation that to make this contribution to the hospital would not mean anything like as much as the actual cost of caring for these patients, which if there was no hospital, the city would be compelled to provide for. If there were no hospital in the City of Alexandria, the municipality would necesasrily have to provide not only room, but the necessary outfit, physicians and nurses to care for charity patients.

When these things are considered the request of the executive committee for an appropriation of five thousand dollars toward the hospital fund is certainly not an extravagant request.

It is hoped that the railroads and the employees of the diferent factories of the city will make up their lists of subscriptions and send them in before the end of the week.

Among the contributions received this morning was one from Emmanuel Chapel Sunday School of Alexandria county, amounting to $5.00.

MURDER NEAR ROCKVILLE, MD.

George F. Mills Slays Edward Lowe With Ploughshare Last Night.

FRACTURES SKULL.

Both Men Had Been at Variance With Each other For Some Time—Victim Had Been Drinking.

Washington, May 26.—Struck down by a plow share wielded by George F Mills, on the perch of Maynard Hoyle's store at Derwood, near Rockville, Md., last night, Edward Lowe, thirty-five years old and unmarried, died of a crushed skull before medical attention could reach him.

Mills is under arrest at Rockville, and Sheriff Payton Whales is making a rigid investigation of the affair today. There were witnesses to the fight and death of Lowe, and no inquest will be held.

Lowe and Mills,both residents of Derwood, had been on the outs for three years. They had not been speaking and it was generally recognized by the community, it is said, that there was bad blood between them.

The men had avoided each other for years. Last night they met apparently by accident. Lowe, it is alleged, had been drinking. Mills was sitting on the porch of the store, the general meeting place, at 8:30 o'clock, when Lowe came up and started in the store, apparently to make a purchase. They met and words passed.

Mills says that Lowe attacked him with the spoke from an automobile wheel, and that he struck back in self-defense. A witness gives another version. He states that Mills first struck Lowe with the plowshare and then with the auto spoke.

The witness states that immediately after the fight, when Lowe was stretched out unconscious, or nearly so, that Mills bent over him and bathed his face with cold water and summoned medical assistance. Lowe died of a crushed skull within ten minutes, however.

The approach to the crossing is a sharp curve, and the railroad is concealed from view. Noll was employed at the Oley street mill, and upon approaching the tracks it is thought he failed to hear the oncoming train. The collision occurred when the rig was in the middle of the tracks. Noll was mangled, an arm and leg being severed.

EXERCISES YESTERDAY

Survivors of Army of Northern Virginia Gather at Prince and Washington Streets

It was a pathetically slim line of gray-coated veterans that marched from Lee Camp Hall to the Confederate Monument yesterday afternoon. Where once 350 of the young manhood of Alexandria had followed the stars and bars that floated at the head of the column of the Seventeenth Virginia Regiment, a few over a score answered to the roll call yesterday afternoon. And those that are left will before many more memorial days have passed join their comrades of the army of northern Virginia and leave the decoration of the graves of the Confederate dead to younger but not less loving hands.

The scene about the monument was an inspiring one. Hundreds of citizens had gathered beneath the trees that surround the statue erected twenty-five years ago to "the Lost Cause." From the direction of Lee Hall marched fifty girls and boys, dressed in white with red sashes across their breasts, and took their seats beneath the colonial portico of the residence of Dr Hugh McGuire. Following came the veterans marching with halting steps, beneath the colors that they had so bravely followed fifty three years ago. From the opposite direction came the American Indian Guard band in their gorgeous uniforms followed by a patrol of kahki-uniformed Boy Scouts who formed a cordon around the speakers stand.

The exercises were short and impressive. The little boys and girls, who had been trained under the direction of Miss Blanche Rotchford, sang a number of patriotic selections The Rev. J. W. Duffey, chaplain of the camp, delivered the invocation and William A. Smoot, commander, presided and introduced Major J. C. Hemphill, of South Carlina, who was the orator of the day.

The speech made by Major Hemphill was an inspiring one. It was in the main part an eloquent defense of the position taken by the South during the war and an eulogy of the deeds of the Confederate soldier. In opening his remarks Major Hemphill said:

"It is a holy thing to remember the dead who died for us, to extol their fame, to recite the glory of their deeds, to lay wreaths upon their graves; but we shall have misinterpreted the true meaning of this occasion if we fail to see through our tears the righteousness of the cause for which they fought and died; else these memorial services are but a vain and empty mockery. 'Memorial Day!' Memorial of what? Surely not of the men we mourn, alone, but of the holy cause also and chiefly, for which they made the supreme sacrifice. This, this indeed, this is the central idea of these services, or if it be not so we add to our humility and baseness of sin and hypocrisy the humility and hypocrisy of a people utterly unworthy of their historic past and richly deserving the contempt not only of their ancient foes but of the world as well. Alexandria, though standing here within the sight of the capitol of a new-born Nation the Capital which we made—did not argue with its fears nor count the cost when the summons came but in the Seventeenth Regiment of Virginia Voluteers, and the other commands in which its men faced death on many bloody fields, went forth to battle for the right as God gave them vision to see the right, and of the manner in which they and their comrades kept the faith the official records attest. Every stone at Arlington and in the National cemeteries throughout the land is a monument to the valor of the soldiers who followed Lee and Jackson and Stuart, and Hampton and Forrest, and Ashby and Mosby, who drew their swords in defense of the Constitution and the rights of the States. Every dollar paid in pensions to the men on the other side is their witness also that they did their duty. Every repressive act of legislation, every State that was oppressed by alien rule, every theft and outrage committed by invading enemies, every speech of bomb-proof statesman or political thug in fifty years of written and unwritten history, every departure from the Constitution of the fathers—all these establish the justice of the cause for which the South contended half a century ago. We need not worry about the final verdict of impartial history but we should remember on a day like this when we honor our dead the cause for which they died and how in honoring them we ennoble the principles for whichy they gave their lives."

He closed his address with a comparison of the Confederate soldiers who fell in battle and the Spartans who died at Thermopylae.

Following the closing of the exercises the veterans passed around the monument and placed roses at its base. They then proceeded to Christ Church yard where the grave of the unknown Confederate dead was decorated and a volley fired by the Alexandria Light Infantry.

William R. Bowlus, of Middletown, Md., a student of the junior class of St. John's College, Annapolis, Md., was shot and seriousy wounded yesterday evening by a member of the freshman class. There are strong reasons for believing that the injured youth was one of a number of upper classmen who intended to haze the younger youths. The weapon used was a revolver.

Remains of Dr. L. M. Blackford, Noted Educator, Interred in Ivy Hill Cemetery

Borne by six professors of the Episcopal High Schools and followed by the pupils of the same institution over which he had presided for forty-three years, the remains of Dr. Launcelot M. Blackford were interred in Ivy Hill cemetery this afternoon. The funeral was one of the largest that has ever taken place in this section of the state. Many alumni of the school, clergymen from Alexandria and the Theological Seminary of Virginia and the several hundred pupils of the High School and the Seminary were present.

The services were held in the Seminary chapel and were conducted by the Rev. Randolph H. McKim rector of Epiphany church, Washington, who was a comrade of Dr. Blackford in the civil war, assisted by the Rev. Wm. J. Morton, rector of Christ Church, Alexandria, of which Dr. Blackford was a vestryman.

The honorary pall bearers consisted of the vestry of Christ Church, the board of trustees of the Episcopal High School and the Seminary of Virginia and the members of R. E. Lee Camp of Confederate Veterans, of this city. The active pall bearers were Willoughby Reade, G. C. Shackleford, J. M. Daniels, Jr., F. E. Carter, R. P. Williams Jr., and A. R Hoxton.

It is announced that owing to the death of Dr Blackford the commencement exercises of the High School will take place June 2d, instead of June 3rd, as previously announced.

Boy Killed by Automobile.

Roanoke, Va., May 26—A 5-year-old white boy was run down by an automobile here yesterday morning in the grounds of the Hotel Roanoke, and yesterday afternoon, the lad, who was unidentified, died as a result of a fractured skull.

The car which ran over the boy is owned by J. C. Cassell, and was driven by a negro chauffeur. It is believed that the accident was unavoidable, as the child ran out of a hedge in front of the car. The machine was not running rapidly, and was stopped instantly, although the front wheels passed over the boys head and shoulders. No one has called at the hospital to identify the body of the little fellow.

Given Eighteen Years.

Roanoke, Va, May 26.—The jury in the case of Elias Bousilman, the Syrian, who was placed on trial for his life in the Corporation Court yesterday morning charged with having murdered his brother Kalil Bousilman, on March 14th, after being out thirty three minutes, at 11:10 tonight returned a verdict of murder in the second degree, and Bousilman was sentenced to the penitentiary for eighteen years.

Bird and Snake Over Auto.

Berwick, Pa., aMy 26.—With a big coperhead in its claws, so heavy that it could hold it, a hawk hovered for minutes over the heads of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fowler, driving in their automobile near here.

The wriggling and venomous snake nearly struck the couple, and several times the hawk nearly dropped it into the automobile.

SCUFFLING CAUSES DEATH.

New York, May 26.—Inquisitive meddling with the mechanism of a motor truck by men who knew nothing about the apparatus caused the killing of Patrick Burke, 15 years old, and serious injury of Edward McAdams, 10 years old, yesterday afternoon.

Charles Schwartz and David Schedler, workers in the packing house, used the drivers' seat as a resting place, where they emptied their lunch pails. Scuffling and skylarking, they released the brakes. The big car rolled backward, diagonally across the street. The car, while Patrick Burke's mother screamed warnings he did not understand from the window of their home, crashed into the two boys at a lamppost.

A big crowd formed in the street, and led by the father of McAdams boy, set upon Schwartz and Schedler. The young men turned and ran, but were overtaken and were faring badly when a policeman interfered. Both were arrested.

CROWD WILL VISIT NORFOLK.

Predicts at Least 10,000 Will Attend Hibernian Convention.

Norfolk, Va., May 26.—"National President Regan has not, in my opinion, over estimated the number of delegates and visitors who will be in Norfolk for the annual convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in America, in July," said Patrick J. Haltigan, of Washington, D. C., and editor of the National Hibernian, the official organ of that order, who was in Norfolk a day or two ago.

"Large delegations are coming here from as far west as California, and from Canada. The south, which has heretofore not responded liberally in numbers at conventions, will also be largely represented. Georgia, particularly, will send a large delegation," Mr. Haltigan continued. "From information received by the national officers, there is every indication that the convention will attract not less than ten thousand perple to this city.

"Norfolk is delightfully situated for the entertainment of large conventions such as ours will be, and I haven't the slightest doubt that the forthcoming convention will be not only one of the largest, but most enjoyable in the history of the order."

Mr. Haltigan came here for a conference with local men who are making arrangements for the convention. He talked with John F. Lawler, chariman of the reception committee; M. J. Murphy and Harvey M. Dickson, of the Norfolk Convention Association.

Post Office Looted by Yeggmen.

Windsor, Va., May 26.—At an early hour yesterday morning the post office here was robbed. The robbers first broke open the blacksmith shop of C. W. Bailey, taking hammers, chisels and pieces of iron. With these implements they broke open the rear door of the post office, and then used nitroglycerine on the safe. They stole $435.99 in currency, $888.83 in stamps, and two blank domestic money order books.

There is no clue. Three strangers were seen near the postoffice building at 11:30 Sunday night.

The will of C W. Post, of Battle Creek, Mich., who died at Santa Barbara, Cal., on May 9, was filed in Washington yesterday for probate, and leaves the bulk of an estate estimated at $20,000,000, to the widow, Mrs. Lelia Y. Post, and a daughter, Marjorie Post Close.

Mother Stanislaus Tells of Recovery

Throat Troubles, like continued coughs and colds, often seriously affect the lungs. If you have not found any improvement from the treatment you have tried, investigate the many reports showing benefits, and, in numerous cases, complete recoveries, brought about by the use of Eckman's Alterative. This is a medicine for Throat and Lung Troubles, favorably known for more than fifteen years. Read this case:—

Convent of St. Anne, Sanford, Fla.

"Gentlemen: In February, 1911, four doctors examined my throat and pronounced the necessity of an operation. Having heard at Peekskill, N. Y., Motherhouse of the Sisters of St. Francis, where I was visiting, of Eckman's Alterative, I determined as a last resort to try it. After taking four or five bottles large pieces of diseased tissue came away. I continued the Alterative, a my grateful and daily relief. In ten months I was restored to perfect health. I would be glad to write or talk to any person who may have a doubt about it. I would like them to see and hear from my own lips, if they so desire, all I would say of it."

(Signed) MOTHER M. STANISLAUS.

TAKES WIVES AND MONEY.

Ohioan, Arrested in Richmond, Says Woman "Made Him Elope."

Richmond, Va., May 26.—Frank Woytow, 38 years old, was arrested yesterday by Constable Clarence H. Wohlgemuth, of Toledo, Ohio, assisted by Detective Wiley and Atkinson, charged with abducting Mrs. Martin Kustra and two children, one 3 years and another 18 months old, and with stealing $200 from Kutsra, who came here with the Ohio official to take his wife back to Ohio.

The couple became reconciled after Mrs. Kustra had tried to leap from a third-story window when her husband and the officers appeared to arrest Woytow. Woytow twirled his mustache and said it was all the woman's fault—she had made him elope with her.

The husband and babies returned to Ohio this evening on the same train that carried Constable Wohlgemuth and Woytow.

The elopers were discovered through a Polish newspaper which carried a picture of the wife. She was recognized on the streets here and the husband notified.

DR. JONES MAY BE PROMOTED.

Virginian Likely to Head Fishery Bureau.

Washington, May 26.—As the result of an expected shake-up in the Bureau of Fisheries, Department of Commerce, Dr. E. Lester Jones, of Culpeper, Va., probably will succeed Hugh H. Smith, as Commissioner of Fisheries. Dr. Jones is at present deputy commissioner. Mr. Smith is a hold-over from the last Administration, having been deputy commissioner under George M. Bowers.

That President Wilson and Secretary of Commerce Redfield are contemplating a change developed yesterday when Dr. Jones was summoned to the White House to receive instructions from the President relative to a four months' trip of inspection which the deputy will shortly make through the salmon fishing territory of Alaska. He will leave for Alaska this week.

Present conditions among the salmon and seal fisheries of Alaska are said to be responsible for friction which exists in the bureau. Delegations from Alaska have complained against the manner in which affairs were being run. So spirited were these complaints that Mr. Redfield made an independent investigation.

Dr. Jones' trip to Alaska concerns several bills now pending in Congress to restrict the annual "take" of salmon from the Behring Sea waters. According to figures collected by the Department of Commerce, the salmon fisheries business along the Pacific coast last year amounted to $39,000,000, of which amount the Alaskan fisheries furnished $16,000,000.

HOME RULE IN IRELAND.

Ireland is at last to have a parliament. The commons consists of 164 members, of which Ulster will elect 59. The senate consists of 40 members, named by the imperial government, or the lord lieutenant.

"The withered branch," as Macaulay terms Ireland, will now have an opportunity to become green and spread out, as it should have done years ago. The passage of the home rule bill by the British House of Commons yesterday caused shouts of rejoicing to ascend not only over the Emerald Isle, but the greater portion of the United States where sons of Hibernia are to be found.

In the days of Gladstone he attempted to secure home rule for Ireland, but the movement has been sidetracked and impeded first by one thing and then another while millions died without seeing their dreams crystalize. The House of Lords has been the main barrier in the way, but notwithstanding the opposition of this body, its vetoes have been ignored and the House of Commons, the pulse of the nation, has decreed that Ireland shall have home rule.

As is well-known, there is fierce opposition in Ulster against home rule, and it is the conviction of many onlookers that trouble is sure to come. There was a saying among the ancient Romans to the effect that things we most dread never happen. It may be so with Ireland. At any rate, let us hope that serenity will accompany the setting up of the home government. There is no good reason why factions in that country cannot live, move and have their being peaceably and contentedly.

The Irish are a liberty-loving people. Had they received the treatment from the mother government which was their due, the country never would for years been the withered branch of a great empire. But it has been reserved for the twentieth century for Hibernia and Brittania to go hand in hand, as they ever should.

When Julius Caesar made a conquest of Britain and annexed it to the Roman Empire he did not invade Ireland. While the aborigines of the English isle were practically Roman serfs, Hibernia was enjoying freedom from the iron yoke which had been placed upon practically every other nation. It was not the province of a Caesar to subjugate Ireland, but the people of an adjoining isle after they had broken the Roman chains from their own necks. Ireland has waited long for the rising of the glorious sun of self-government. Its beams are now shooting forth, and may they bring the dawn of a great epoch for a nation ignored by the mighty hand of a power which should long ago have been moved by the tears of a long-suffering sister isle which has furnished so many glorious representatives of the human race, who have contributed so materially to the greatness of Albion.

GATHERING AT THE MONUMENT.

The annual impressive scene, began twenty-five years ago when the Confederate Monument was unveiled at the intersection of Prince and Washington streets, was repeated yesterday evening as the day was drawing to a close. On the 24th day of May, 1889, when the veil was drawn aside from the heroic figure representing the lone Confederate soldier facing the southern country with downcast eyes, the late General Fitzhugh Lee made the principal address which was published in full in the Gazette and read all over the country. Yearly from that day to this speakers have virtually reiterated what the speaker uttered at that time—that the south has nothing for which to apologize. Its people from the first believed they were right. They believe so now and ever will, although they bow to the decision of the sword.

Major J. C. Hemphill, who was the orator yesterday, enthused his hearers with the same message. As speakers who have preceded him, he, too, showed the justness of the cause for which the southern people contended. They merely insisted upon their rights—rights assured them at the formation of the government of the United States. Major Hemphill made many apt allusions to history and conditions existing before and after the civil war and the contentions thereto.

"It was a war of criminal aggression, and on the part of the South it was defense against invasion." declared the Major. The speaker paid a glowing tribute to those who wore the gray, and added that they kept the faith, as the records attest. These words, few though they be, tell the story.

CONDITIONS IN MEXICO.

Captain Chadwick, in a communication to the New York Sun gives an elaborate description of conditions in Mexico and the cause. Among other things the captain says:

"Mexico has been governed by an upper class mainly of Spanish blood which owns the land and wealth of that country.

'Below this class is an ignorant, immoral, intemperate mass of fifteen times, perhaps as numerous as the other owning nothing, and practically serfs to the million, say of the first class. Mexico is the Russia of two generations since, with the added great difficulty that these serfs are of several very divers races of Indians with mixtures of all degrees. Mexico is thus fundamentally Indian in blood and temperament; not Spanish.

"The unrest of this great mass of Indians and people of Indian mixture, ground since the Spanish conquest under the millstone of slavery, is the main cause of the revolution. They do not know what they want; they only know that they do not want what they have, which is nothing. Their revolt has almost as little of actual mentality ,when one goes below the leaders,as has the movement of an earthquake, to which in a way it may be compared. And they are going to continue to revot until they have some of the benefits of life; land to cultivate and the right to live their live for themselves instead of for the (practical) owners. Thus any dictator set up by the higher class can only exist by armed suppression of this lower class, as did Diaz ,a model despot."

Weigh Yourself Before Using

Weigh yourself before commencing to use Samose, the great flesh-forming food. The wonderful sale on this preparation since first introduced in Alexandria and the remarkable results following its use have made E. S. Leadbeater & Sons such enthusiastic believers in the great value of Samose that they give their personal guarantee to refund the money if Samose will not make thin people fat and restore strength and health to those who use it.

This is a strong guarantee, but E. S. Leadbeater & Sons have seen so many of their customers who a few weeks ago looked like walking skeletons become plump and well, solely through the use of Samose that they feel they cannot say too much to induce people to try it.

This marvellous flesh-forming food is assimilated as soon as it is taken into the stomach, makes good rich blood, tones up the weakened system, helps to assimilate the food and makes the user plump, well and rosy.

There is a Great Difference in Tobaccos

Tuxedo is the Mildest, Sweetest, Most Pleasant Smoke in the World, Because—

First—No one but the makers of Tuxedo is willing to spend the money necessary to buy the mildest, choicest, most thoroughly aged, selected Burley tobacco.

Second—No one but the makers of Tuxedo knows how to treat this Burley tobacco so that every bit of pleasantness and goodness remains in the tobacco and every bit of unpleasantness and harshness is taken out.

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

Tuxedo was born in 1904. Its first imitator appeared two years later. Since then a host of imitations have been born, and are clamoring for your patronage.

No imitation is ever as good as the original. No amount of advertising, no amount of bluster and bluff, can ever make an imitation tobacco as good as Tuxedo.

If you are not a pipe smoker, you are denying yourself the greatest smoking pleasure known to man. One week of Tuxedo will give you more enjoyment than you have ever had—and at the end of the week your nerves will be better and your general health will have improved. Try Tuxedo this week!

NEWS OF THE DAY

Confronted with the ordeal of having to send a woman to the electric chair for murder, it became known in New York yesterday that the district attorney of Bronx county, Francis Martin, had tried to sway Mrs. Madelina Ferola, through her counsel Nathan D. Levy, to make a plea of guilty of murder in the second degree to save her life. This Mrs. Ferola refused to do, and Justice Vernon M. Davis will sentence her to death for the murder of Carmello Canestrano, 23 years old, on the night of December 29, 1913. The motive for killing Canestrano is alleged to have been his refusal to marry Mrs. Ferola after they had obtained a marriage license in the city hall, Manhattan.

So that his wife and children would get the benefit of what little he had in the way of this world's goods, Rafael Loulga, of Elizabeth, N. J., who tonight will go to his death in the electric chair, was married yesterday to Maria Maraca in the death house at the prison. Louiga is to die for the death of Antonio Migliare, whom he murdered two years ago in Elizabeth. He had a quarrel in a saloon and went home to get a gun to commit the crime.

Francis Kossuth, son of the great Hungarian patriot, died yesterday at Budapest, aged 73 years.

Shouts of "Shoot the King!" filled the hall in which a meeting of the Wmen's Social and Political Union, the militant suffragette organization of London, was held yesterday afternoon. Every mention of King George's name was greeted with angry derision and prolonged hissing.

J. P. Morgan characterizes as untrue the testimony of Charles S. Mellen, former head of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, before the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington last week, that J. Pierpont Morgan concealed from Mr. Mellen facts regarding the New Haven road which Mr. Mellen should have known. Mr. Morgan has offered to produce before any proper tribunal at any time the records of J. P. Morgan & Co., and the personal records of his father.

East Side, New York gunmen raided a dance given at the Ernest Social Club, 5 Abingdon place, by the Marginal Club, early yesterday in the fight that followed three persons were shot, one fatally. Fred Hillock, the man mortally wounded, walked to the New York Hospital after the fight ended and asked for treatment. The fight was short, but hot. More than fifty shots were fired by the gangsters. There was a panic among the women present, and they attempted to flee from the battle, but one, May Brown, was shot. Nine men and two women were arrested by the police, who dashed into the club.

Theodore Roosevelt will return to Washington today on a visit which ostensibly is in the interest of science. The former President will remain in the Capital for nine hours. At a meeting of the First assembly district Republican Club, Brooklyn, last night 200 members voted unanimously for a resolution asking Theodore Roosevelt and members of the Progressive party to return to the Republican fold.

Declaring that "If you want a thing done right do it yourself," Melville H. Freas, of Philadelphia, a civil war veteran, will on memorial day unveil a massive granite monument which he has had erected in his own honor. The monument is surmounted by a life size statue of Freas clad in a uniform worn by the Union troops during the war. The monument with statute, stands nearly 12 feet in height and weighs four and a half tons. It cost $5,000, according to Freas.

Mrs. Mary O'Connell, a policewoman of Chicago, is afraid to go home in the dark, and asked a policeman detailed to escort her home after finishing her detail. Mrs. O'Connell is stationed at the railway depot. She said she had been asking patrolmen to walk home with her for her safety.

The New York statute requiring railroad corporations to pay employes semi-monthly in cash was yesterday upheld as constitutional by the Supreme Court.

In the preparation of his appeal from the verdict on the charge of having instigated the murder of Herman Rosenthal in New York, much of the routine work will be done by Charles F. Becker. Already Becker has prepared notes on a mass of papers left with him by his counsel.

STOMACH TROUBLES

Mr. Ragland Writes Interesting Letter on This Subject.

Madison Heights, Va.—Mr. Chas. A. Ragland, of this place, writes: "I have been taking Thedford's Black-Draught for indigestion, and other stomach troubles, also colds, and find it to be the best medicine I have ever used.

After taking Black-Draught for a few days, I always feel like a new man."

Nervousness, nausea, heartburn, pain in pit of stomach, and a feeling of fullness after eating, are sure symptoms of stomach trouble, and should be given the proper treatment, as your strength and health depend very largely upon your food and its digestion.

To get quick and permanent relief from these ailments, you should take a medicine of known curative merit.

Its 75 years of splendid success, in the treatment of just such troubles, proves the real merit of Thedford's Black-Draught. Safe, pleasant, gentle in action, and without bad after-effects, it is sure to benefit both young and old. For sale everywhere. Price 25c. H. C. 122.

Tired Feeling-Swollen Hands and Feet Due to Kidney Trouble!

Your kidneys surely need help—and quickly—when your hands and feet thicken, swell up and feel dull, sluggish lose your energy and appetite and there is a puffy look under the eyes. Take Foley's Kidney Pills at once. They act directly and quickly, and the result is a regular normal action that keeps the irritating poisonous acids out of your system. Use no substitute. E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Agents.

Mr. Edgar Thompson celebrated his nineteenth birthday Sunday afternoon at his home in south Fairfax street. He received many handsome and useful presents.

Splendors of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Revealed by Its Present Progress.

SUPERB WORKS OF SCULPTURE AND ART IN COLOSSAL EXHIBIT PALACES FOR AMERICA'S PANAMA CANAL CELEBRATION.

GLINTS of gold from vast oriental domes, Venetian blue on minarets, prodigious works of sculpture and the arrival of notables from all parts of the globe give glimpses of the great Panama-Pacific International Exposition as it will appear when its gates swing open to the world on Feb. 20, 1915.

Not for many years will the world be enabled to enjoy so marvelous a collection of the works of contemporary sculptors. The World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago first proved that the greatest talent might be engaged to produce work of even temporary value. Since then more and more attention has been given at each succeeding exposition to sculpture as a form of decoration, and the great Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco promises to surpass even Chicago's exquisite display.

Every phase of the exposition is far advanced. Thirty-three of the world's nations will participate with government displays, Argentina leading with a government appropriation of $1,300,000 gold.

CANADA AT THE PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION, SAN FRANCISCO, 1915.

PLANS for the Canadian building at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco in 1915 have been approved, and the work on the great structure has started.

The Canadian Palace, as it is officially named, will be one of the largest and most imposing of the foreign buildings, having a length of 240 feet, a width of 240 feet and a height of 50 feet, and will cost in the neighborhood of $300,000. It will be the largest building ever erected by Canada at an international exposition, covering 65,000 square feet, and will house one of the most elaborate and comprehensive exhibits of the Dominion's resources and products ever shown on foreign soil. Six hundred thousand dollars has already been voted by the Canadian parliament for the building and exhibits, but a further grant, bringing the appropriation up to $1,000,000, will be recommended by the government.

Canada at the Panama-Pacific Exposition is following the same policy that has obtained at former expositions—namely, the display of specimens or exhibits of the natural products of the country—agricultural, horticultural, mineral, forest and fisheries—for the purpose of showing her climatic advantages and her resources to the great number of people who will visit the Exposition. Attention will be devoted to transportation facilities, and the railways will be assigned considerable space in the building. Practically the entire exhibit of Canada at the recent Ghent exposition—and it was conceded by all judges a most magnificent display—is en route here now, while many new and attractive exhibits are being prepared in the various provinces.

The exhibit will be under the supervision of Colonel William Hutchison, who will represent the Dominion government.

JOHNSON TO FIGHT LANGFORD

Two Colored Rivals Will Meet in London if Champion Beats Moran.

Paris, May 26.—Jack Johnson has started serious training at Luna Park for his fight with Frank Moran, and big crowds are going daily to see him work. He has five sparring partners, each one boxing three rounds with him. He now looks like the Johnson of the old days, although his weight is 225 pounds, but he says he will enter the ring at 210.

Moran has also commenced real training in the country, where he is doing road work and sparring with Tom Kennedy, the former amateur heavyweight champion, and Willie Lewis.

Moran is supremely confident of winning the fight with a knockout.

Johnson this week signed an agreement with Richard Klein, provided he beats Moran, to fight Sam Langford at London in September or October.

ANOTHER WAR CLOUD.

Austria Preparing to Seize Albania—Balkan Conflict.

Paris, May 26.—Austria is preparing to throw an army into Albania and occupy the whole of the new kingdom because of disturbed political conditions, according to a telegram received today from Vienna. Troops are already mobilized. If the Austrian government carries out its design another Balkan war may be precipitated as both Servia and Greece have signified their intention to the powers to resist the annexation of any part of Albania by Austria.

Constantinople, May 26—Turkey and Italy have opened negotiations for the purpose of placing a Moslem prince upon the throne of Albaunia to succeed King William, who has agreed to abdicate. However, the Balkan states are opposed to any but a Christian ruler in the new Kingdom.

The government of Albania is now upheld upon the bayonets of the international force of marines now in Durazo. The king returned to his palace, but arranged to embark immediately on the Italian warship if the palace was again attacked by insurgents.

Durazo, Albania, May 26.—Rebellious Albanians followed by Essad Pacha, are increasing in numbers around this city and are threatening to make an attack despite the presence of several hundred armed marines from Italian and Austrian warships. The marines, with loaded rifles and fixed bayonets, are guarding the palace and foreign legations where foreigners are gathered.

It is expected that both Italy and Austria will send more warships. Pressure is brought on King William to remain here, despite his expressed determination to leave the country.

SPARROWS AS CANARIES.

Slick Swindler Dyes Birds and Pockets $500.

Sunbury Pa. May 25.—Six week ago a stranger representing himself to be direct from the Canary Islands, sold what he claimed to be genuine male canary birds for $1.50 each. The real birds bring from $3 to $5 here, and he readily sold the others to many housewives, and left town with all of $500 in his pockets.

Harry Adams found his "canary" was losing color, and an examination showed it to be a sparrow of the variety so plentiful in this country. Inquiry revealed that all the birds he he sold had been dyed.

CAUGHT BY DEVIL FISH.

Fisherman Off California Coast Almost Pulled Overboard by Sea Monster.

Long Beach, Cal., May 26.—Wrapped in the writhing sucking tentacles, of a monster devil fish and with the malignant green eyes of the horrible creature staring into his own, a twenty-minute fight for life in a small launch fourteen miles off Long Beach last Friday, Capt. A. H. Moson, of a fishing launch suffered so great physical and mental agony that he was unable until today to give a coherent account of his unusual and terrible battle.

Mason left Long Beach Friday morning to fish for groupers. While pulling up his lines at the grouper beds Mason was seized by tentacles of a sixteen-foot devil fish that had become entangled in the lines. One tentacle bound Mason's right arm to his body and another encircled his neck, and despite the captain's fierce resistance, he was gradually drawn farther over the gunwhale of the boat. Luckily he seized a gaff hook with his left hand, and, after twenty minutes of fighting, killed the sea monster.
